

The wolf is at the door.

Talk of war has become preparation for war across the European continent.

The people of Europe, will not accept the descent into chaos and war led by the Trump Presidency.

Working people are seeing the money that should be spent on health care, transport, education and housing swept away into the bottomless pockets of the arms manufacturers. Families that have not known military conscription for generations now listen in fear as military leaders and politicians warn that their sons and daughters must be prepared to fight and die.

In the face of war, and the racist divisions it breeds, we must create our own international network which will organise for peace, oppose the revitalised US and European imperial project.

We must fight for the livelihood, indeed the very lives, of working people. To plan that resistance we are holding an international rally in London on 20 June 2026.

We invite every student and worker, every trade unionist and anti-war activist to attend. We want peace. We say no to rearmament, no to conscription, and yes to well funded health, education and public services, decent jobs, and higher wages.
