Cut Warfare not Welfare

The government is pushing through massive increases in 'defence' spending.

While the government fails to act over the climate crisis, it plans to spend 3.5% of national income by 2035 on the military, an increase of £35 billion per year. It is expected to fund this by cutting public services, social security and pensions.

We believe this must stop. The military budget will be spent on foreign wars which do not make us more secure and will only benefit arms dealers. Real security comes from decent jobs, pay and properly funded public services.
